International Chamber of Commerce Gets New Name

June 13, 2008, ATLANTA GA – The International Chamber of Commerce today announced a new name and logo.

In an effort to support its objective of acting as liaison for all the consulate and bi-national communities in the metro Atlanta area, the Chamber is now named the World Chamber of Commerce (WCC). A new logo has been developed to reflect the name change.

A mission of the WCC is to unite Atlanta's businesses with the foreign nation communities wishing to develop business in the US. The new name will help the Chamber position itself as a premier Chamber for integrating all nations reaching out to the prosperous US business community.
